Vintage

Despite the chaotic weather conditions observed throughout the year 2021, the professionals welcome the high-quality wines produced.

After a rather cold start of the year, the end of winter was relatively mild and well-watered thus allowing an early bud burst, exposing the vines to dreaded frosts from April till May. It wasn't until June to see a mild weather set in and the growth of the vine literally explode. It was during this period that important rainfall being recorded, favoring the development of mildew and madding conditions extremely difficult for the vinegrowers to intervene. The weather conditions fortunately became much more favorable again from August allowing to approach harvest more serenely.

A vintage of small quantity which will offer wines typically Alsatian, very fresh and aromatic, tense and pure, crunchy, very attractive and pleasurable to drink.
